Form Approved
OMB No. 1210-0149

PART A: General Information

When key parts of the health care law take effect in 2014, there will be a new way to buy health insurance: the Health Insurance Marketplace. To assist you as you evaluate options for you and your family, this notice provides some basic information about the new Marketplace and employment-based health coverage offered by your employer.

What is the Health Insurance Marketplace?

The Marketplace is designed to help you find health insurance that meets your needs and fits your budget. The Marketplace offers "one-stop shopping" to find and compare private health insurance options. You may also be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that lowers your monthly premium right away. Open enrollment for health insurance coverage through the Marketplace begins in October 2013 for coverage starting as early as January 1, 2014.

Can I Save Money on my Health Insurance Premiums in the Marketplace?

You may qualify to save money and lower your monthly premium, but only if your employer does not offer coverage, or offers coverage that doesn't meet certain standards. The savings on your premium that you're eligible for depends on your household income.

Does Employer Health Coverage Affect Eligibility for Premium Savings through the Marketplace?

Yes. If you have an offer of health coverage from your employer that meets certain standards, you will not be eligible for a tax credit through the Marketplace and may wish to enroll in your employer's health plan. However, you may be eligible for a tax credit that lowers your monthly premium, or a reduction in certain cost-sharing if your employer does not offer coverage to you at all or does not offer coverage that meets certain standards. If the cost of a plan from your employer that would cover you (and not any other members of your family) is more than 9.5% of your household income for the year, or if the coverage your employer provides does not meet the "minimum value" standard set by the Affordable Care Act, you may be eligible for a tax credit.¹

Note: If you purchase a health plan through the Marketplace instead of accepting health coverage offered by your employer, then you may lose the employer contribution (if any) to the employer-offered coverage. Also, this employer contribution –as well as your employee contribution to employer-offered coverage– is often excluded from income for Federal and State income tax purposes. Your payments for coverage through the Marketplace are made on an after-tax basis.

How Can I Get More Information?

¹ An employer-sponsored health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total allowed benefit costs covered by the plan is no less than 60 percent of such costs.

Here is some basic information about health coverage offered by this employer:

- As your employer, we offer a health plan to:

All employees.

Some employees. Eligible employees are: All Contractual Employees

- With respect to dependents:

We do offer coverage. Eligible dependents are:

Eligible Spouse – Your legal spouse or civil union partner as evidenced by a marriage or civil union certificate; if you married under a recognized common law arrangement in a state that has recognized this relationship, you may complete an Affidavit of Common Law Marriage in lieu of a marriage certificate.

Eligible Domestic Partner (if applicable) – Your qualifying same or opposite sex domestic partner as established by plan guidelines. An eligible domestic partner must be at least 18 years old, not related to the employee by blood or a degree of closeness that would prohibit marriage in the law of the state in which the couple resides, and not married to or in a domestic partnership with any other person; is capable of consenting to a domestic partnership; and shares a common residence and financial responsibility with the employee.

Eligible Children / Disabled Dependents – Your child younger than age 26. Coverage may be extended beyond age 26 to a child of any age who is incapable of self-sustaining employment because of mental illness and/or physical, mental or developmental disability. A child is defined as your natural child; stepchild; adopted child or child placed with you for adoption; child for whom you are the court appointed legal guardian; or child for whom you are required to provide health insurance and/or support by means of a legal order. Eligibility for dependent child coverage is based only in terms of the relationship between a child and participant, and coverage may not be denied or restricted based on factors such as: financial dependency, residency, student status, employment status, eligibility of other coverage or marital status. An employee's grandchild for whom the employee has legally adopted or accepted legal guardianship of or for whom the employee is legally required to provide health insurance is also an eligible dependent. Healthcare reform does not require that the spouse of a child be covered, nor does it require that the dependent child of a child (grandchild) be covered.

We do not offer coverage.

If checked, this coverage meets the minimum value standard, and the cost of this coverage to you is intended to be affordable, based on employee wages.

 Even if your employer intends your coverage to be affordable, you may still be eligible for a premium discount through the Marketplace. The Marketplace will use your household income, along with other factors, to determine whether you may be eligible for a premium discount. If, for example, your wages vary from week to week (perhaps you are an hourly employee or you work on a commission basis), if you are newly employed mid-year, or if you have other income losses, you may still qualify for a premium discount.
